ORIBTER

Dark particles surround the universe
They multiply, divide, then they burst
Like tears from mother's worried eyes
Every day is a trial in our lives
This black hole opened a long, long time ago
A planetary atmospheric glow
Broken hearts on the words on my sincere
Repression holds our darkest fears

My feet are walking and things seem fine
Come with me and waste some time
Down on the shore looking up
At the shower of meteors

IN MY CAR

I past out in my car
Directly behind the bar
What did we say and what did I have to drink
It's the same thing as any

Dream with you smelling the way you do
You do and yesterday I did too
With you smelling the way you do
You do and yesterday I did too

We're drinking down at the bar
I past out in my car

YOUR OPIUM OXYGEN

Your breathe gives me the opium oxygen I need
It's cutting off my feelings and lungs til I can't breathe
Your supple suffication fascinates my disease
Cause I'm the wretch on the pole who's about to bleed

Fuck you, you're not going to be breaking through
To me on the other side of hate is the devistation I can Taste your words past your lips and your tongue is forked like the serpant that I Kissed your ghost to feed the hate that bore its way deep inside my brain

Losing all feeling
I've lost control
Welcome to my drug induced delight
This is my tainted paradise

DROWN INTO YOU

Two hands against her face as she begins to pray
The outcome on the breathe he takes drifts through Mississippi
Her lies cause him to break from the leisure she's made

Proud before the curtain comes down
Wound me in and out
This shroud falls to the ground

Colleen, oh he won't drown into you
From the other men you once knew
Oh Colleen, he seems to be turning blue
Oh, he won't down into you

The pride to be a man depriving all command
This silence upon the sea deep down terrifies me
His body floats downstream through the Mississippi

SHIV & SHOVE

Temptations lured my heart away, don't care cause I've lost the will to say
The stars are not bright in the sky tonight, do you feel the fear I'm feeling inside

She said, "I'm sorry for the pain", I'd say, "I feel the same"
I feel the same, I feel the pain

Take the shiv and shove in my back, take the pain then you bring it all back
Who's your savior? Who's my slave? The servants are never saved

Breathe deep to inhale the fumes, it's never the one you presume
Godfather has turned to sin, seek restitution in laminating the dead

Don't know what you've been doing, don't know who you've been fooling
Don't care cause I've had enough, don't care cause I'm giving up

Take the stake and stick it in my chest, take the sorrow in the bottle with the rest
Who's your savior? Who's my slave? The servants are never saved

DR. SAYS

Doctor says, "What's the commotion over there?"

Doctor says, "What you doing down there?"

He takes up all the space in the room, as I get up and begin to move

You come over and you say

"What were you doing down there anyways?"

Turn my face to meet your gaze, open my mouth as I begin to say

It's my time

Alone in a room is where I hide, like so many cares you drown inside

Doctor's pills take the pain away, open my mouth as I begin to say

Violence like so much social disease, more pills doctor please

The careless caress of needs, more pills doctor please

All the sins when I bleed, more pills doctor please

Your heart is sown on my sleeve, more pills doctor please

Please take, take me on, listen to me then I'm gone

Push me to the ground, volume up, volume down

ELITE GEEK

Can you show me away from angry?

Can you take away the pain that I'm feeling?

Sometimes the settlement settles down to this

Look at my face and show me bliss

No longer deprived of dreams that sink in the sea

The worst of you is buried inside of me

You won't stand by my side, why do I believe these lies?

Break down, break down, take down, that royal crown

When I see my frustrations reflected in your eyes

It's like watching castles fall from the sky

Trying to keep anger management elite

Through words that speak to all the fucking geeks

Can you feel the darkness shine through?

Like the knife that carves cracks into you

Our fears become superimposed sometimes

Through words that speak to all the fucking geeks

GRAY LIGHTS

Collar up at the start of the day
The wayward wind blows its prey
All the while what stays the same is you

You won't be brought out of bed
Everything will change before I've step
On the cold concrete you walk beside my feet

I've made my mind, voilets for the sublime
Dream in leaving the glow of these gray lights behind

I take a sip from your drink
Before the ice can chill my teeth
You lean over to whisper the joke you see

You're sitting quitely contemplating
I stare in silight admiration
Wish I could have made you stay after that day

THE HALO'S LAMENT

Bit by bit, the stains stick, ode to the devil's soul
Walk in line, watch you lose control

Stepping out on to the horizon
Half suspended and crumbling
Watch the city flake off its gold
The halo's lament broken by the gloom
Wicked curse of you
I'll tear the tendons from my neck to keep the secrets pure from you..

Clouds look in as fear comes down, your baptism in bullets now
Human condition worn upon your frown

Stars darkness surrounds me
The cold comfort that I need
Wash away the seasons in your dream
The distance between you and me

AND I...

I don't trust this disguise that I hide behind
Seems to distort and bend my world til the very end
And I harness the hate inside, my pores let it seep out more
This chill upon your breathe I elect to recieve
And I delay death outside in the dawn as the fields weep
Down my knees touch the ground as gravity engulfs me
And I lost my faith extinguished the flame
When the curse is inside I pick up my axe and write
And I see resentment in your eyes when you degrate me
This beat in the heart will decay away

And I have a cancer inside it envelopes my mind
You lend me your soul when my strength is too low
And I am coming undone, the pity of one
It's time I take back my life and learn how to fly
And I am no one else except the lies I tell myself
The damage I have done, scares I've given to everyone
And I bury the tears inside from the abuse you hide
Now I'm counting down minutes til I let my demons out
Because in the end you never feel pain again

SHE'S CRYING

This silence is breaking the nausea that you're creating I'm deaf, I'm shaking
For someone to wake me from this lucid dream
Sieze what you need all your deeds are complete

She's crying from a grave she's been saving
She's dying for a song she longs to hear

Papercuts, stay away from the games that people play
Lost faith, lurch and stay
Burried in the way you behave like ghosts hidden in the snow
Sneeze from the cold all your deeds go unknown

Don't wake me from this lucid dream
Sieze what you need all your deeds are complete

NEW ENGLAND SCHOOL WORM

I think I know why you're here
I don't why we disappear
Everyone comes as everyone goes, you never know what will unfold
Grab my hand and jump into the abyss

Off we go into the great unknown
Finding adventure along the road
This story is yet to be told
Grab my hand and away we go into the unknown

Gambling on this roll of the dice
New England school worm advice
I don't know where the road goes, pockets full of love to unfold
Grab my hand and jump into the abyss

How many times do you find
These words in the reflection of her eyes
Storybook tales we've always known
Keep the flame burning inside our hearts

SLEEPWALKING

You tell me everything will be alright
You tell me everything will be just fine
All the while it meant too much to me
The ceiling is dripping down on me

Today, too late, just as well I guess

Enphysemas dream
Enphysemas dream
Do we ever dream
The emerald city dream

DRIVING MY BUGGY THROUGH YOUR BELTLINE

Red sunset shades all the land, driving my buggy through your fields and grass
I'm going over to give farmers daughter a hand, she's the fairest in the land

"Farmer, where's your daughter?" "She's out round back"

"Daughter of the farmer, may I lend you a hand?"

Since I'm helping, I'll help myself to part of his clan, she's the fairest in the land

Hey, laying in the loft with you, a peasants dream come true

Driving my buggy through your beltline while the animals stew

Amber forests from the stories of folklore

Chipping its wood down to build their family a home

I'm going over to Jack's bride a hand, she's the fairest in the land

I can't control myself when in the presence of you, it's the curse I always knew

Blond beaches west of where the Mayflower land

Driving my buggy over your dunes and sand

Going over to give doctor's daughter a hand, she's the fairest in the land
